Eddie was one of the hardest working people in existence. He worked long and diligently at his full-time job at UConn. And he still had enough energy to transplant thousands of mums in an afternoon in his part-time job. His love of flowers and plants was evident in everything he did. He shared the same work ethic as my stepfather, Carl, a farmer, and the two men shared mutual respect and admiration for the other. I'll always remember Eddie's smile and laugh. He loved a good joke, and he was crazy about the Red Sox. We watched many games with him, and no one was happier than he was when they finally starting winning the World Series. And I got to share my love for golf with Eddie, which really blossomed for him long after he and stopped playing together. I have terrific memories of playing rounds with Eddie and my son, Lee. I know Eddie loved his family dearly, and was so proud of his Polish heritage. My condolences go out to the entire Kominski family. Larry Valencia

So Sorry, Uncle Eddy and Aunt Veronica were always so good to me and my family. I live across the street from their house and it is so very strange to not seem him outdoing something in the yard or coming over to talk. He was so happy when we would visit him at Evergreen. Give Aunt Ronnie a hug for me and say hello to my Mom and Dad.. Love you Rosie and family Rose Hnath, Joe and Bobbi Cote and girls, Vickie and Randy Weidig and girls

Some of my first memories ever are from our times playing golf together. You took me to the driving range. You watched tournaments with me. You even played Jack Nicklaus Golf with me on the Nintendo! You shared a passion with me and I'm happy to keep it going. Thanks for the memories, grandpa.

Dad, Thank you for being my dad! I appreciate how much support and encouragement you gave to me. You taught me so many life lessons that I will carry with me. I will remember all of the things you taught me – still working on the plant care lessons but I did master using the tire pressure gauge! I will remember how strong you were caring for mom before her passing. I will remember your wonderful smile when I came to visit you – and at the sight of the coffee and donut I would bring you. I miss sitting with you, reading to you, just being with you. I picture you now walking and talking with mom and socializing with all of your family and friends who have passed. Love you dad! Jackie

Grandpa, you were strong in handling the end. I'll remember you waking before the sun to go through your routines and the sound of you stirring your coffee in the dark when Lee and I slept over. I'll remember you and grandma sitting on the front lawn just enjoying the day. I'll remember how tight you gripped my hand when grandma passed and I want you to know we will hold each other tight in your passing as well. Love you and miss you, Little Jackie.

Dad, thank you for believing in me all these years. I appreciated all of the hours you spent helping me with homework, throwing and hitting the baseball, shooting hoops, playing cards, doing puzzle...I most appreciated how you learned to play the saxophone and transpose music so you could play along with my clarinet and violin studies. I'm sorry I could not raise plants like you did. You really had a green thumb. I think I know why you smiled at times when I argued with you - you were happy you raised a strong willed daughter. I'll always remember how you talked and talked about all of your kids and grandkids - boasting to your friends about how wonderful and talented we all were. I will keep all of your words of wisdom in my heart. You put up a valiant fight dad. I am proud of you. Give mom a hug for me. I miss you both deeply. Love, your daughter Judy
