A big part of my life includes many, many memories of Jason and his family. I especially remember trips to Disney, the Cape, and Daytona.....and the numerous family cookouts and get togethers. I was fortunate to share that close relationship in his younger years. He was like a son I never had.....and such a handsome one, I might add! As time went on, he would greet me with a huge bearhug whenever we would meet. He won a piece of my heart and will remain there as long as I'm living. ❤️

I will always remember all of the good times. How Jayden would light up when she saw you. Her first birthday you were a proud dad. Softball games where everyone could see a smile only a father has. Rest easy.

Jason, the baby of all 8 of us. I met my brother when I was 22 and he was 17 for the first time. As well as the rest of my family. Jason has always had a huge heart and for many years has made the family laugh. I will miss that we are not able to grow old together, but I am thankful for the many years we were able to share with each other. I love you and you are now in peace.
